Call for Proposals

The Maryland Association for Adult, Community and Continuing Education (MAACCE) is seeking practitioners to share their expertise at our spring conference. We invite your participation!

This year's conference theme is Charting a New Course

MAACCE is seeking content of interest to Maryland's adult education professionals, like:

Basic skills/Literacy/Numeracy
Correctional Education
ESOL/ESL for adults
Family Literacy
GED® Preparation

The National External Diploma Program
Productivity/Personal Enrichment
Program Administration
Workforce Development
Workplace Literacy

We welcome proposals on any topic related to these areas, and any addressing the needs of adult learners and adult education professionals. Possible topics ideas include:

Working with learning differences
Assessment and accountability
Classroom strategies
GED® 2014
Strategies for engaging learners
Integrating basic skills instruction & career training

Connecting with the community
Integrating technology into the classroom
Learner transitions within and beyond adult education
Developing professional staff
Training/working with volunteers
Enhancing personal productivity
